Q: I'm working on a book where I want pages numbered by chapter, such as 1-1, 1-2, 1-3 in chapter 1 and 2-1, 2-2, 2-3 in chapter 2. Inserting a new page-numbering code at the beginning of each chapter makes it difficult to print specific pages or move around in the document, because I can't figure out how to tell WordPerfect which page number 1 to use. How can I get WordPerfect to distinguish the first page number 1 from the second page number 1, and so on? – Carol Luers Eyman, Nashua, NH

A: Use GoTo (Ctrl-Home) to move between page numbers of different chapters and sections. The included GOTO.WPM macro prompts you for the chapter, section number and page number that you want to go to, then takes you there. It's as simple as that.

To use the macro, with your document on-screen, press Macro (Alt-F10), type "goto" and press (Enter). Enter the chapter or section, then the page number you want to go to. The macro does the rest. Your cursor is now on the correct page.

Note: If your document contains a preface that uses different page numbering, such as i, ii, iii, count it as the first section or chapter. For example, because of the preface, at the first macro prompt you'd enter 3 if you wanted to go to section 2.
